The Musical Academy of Piedmont offers additional training of professional quality to particularly motivated young musicians. The classes take place in Muriaglio-Castellamonte. They are conducted by international artists and pedagogue, in agreement and continuous contact with the participants' teachers. The Academy is supported by the contribution of the American Foundation "Peter SATEGNA", which thanks to scholarships allows students to reduce the overall cost of the course to a minimum. The idea is to give qualified applicants the opportunity to improve themselves in our Region, thus enhancing our territory which has all the credentials to host excellence. The project proposes to define a musical educational itinerary as complete as possible and to give young musicians the opportunity to participate in lessons from great instrumentalists who can not only pass on their concert experience, but also the learning of instrumental technique and musical culture. The Academy is happy to announce the participation of violinist Davide ALOGNA concert performer and pedagogue, Giacomo SCARPONI concertmaster of the Orchestra "Teatro comunale" of Bologna, cellist Daniel GROSGURIN, both internationally renowned concert performers and teachers, Simao BARREIRA principal cellist of the Orchestra "Maggio Musicale" di Firenze. The students will have a collaborating pianist at their disposal for all period.
